A recent "get together" was held in Paris at which time the Board of Trade Committee, composed of Dr. D. M. Stewart, Alton C. Wheeler, and J. Hastings Bean, met representatives of the Oxford Electric Company, who were Ex-Governor William T. Cobb of Rockland, president of the Company; Howard B. Young the superintendent, and Mr. Gordon, district superintendent of the Maine Railway's Light and Power Co., in which the Maine plants are absorbed.

Don't Waste Another Day.

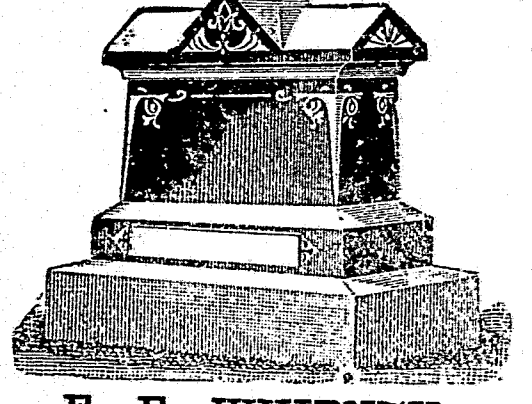

When you are worried by backache; by lameness and urinary disorders—Don't experiment with an untried medicine.

Follow Norway people's example. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Norway testimony.

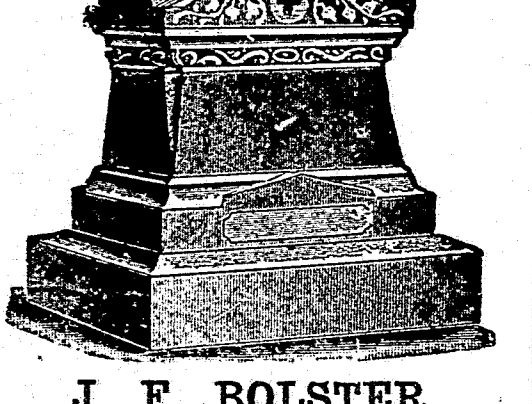

Verify it if you wish: Mrs. Mary Gammon, 14 Beal St., Norway, says: "I have kept Doan's Kidney Pills on hand for years, in fact, ever since I first took them nearly ten years ago. The symptoms I noticed indicated kidney complaint. There was a dull, heavy ache across the small of my back and often attacks of dizziness came over me. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from Frank Kimball's Drug Store, proved very fine in relieving me of these troubles. I take them off and on now as a kidney tonic and couldn't wish for anything better to keep my kidneys in good condition."

FRYEBURG

Carlton H. Walker, son of Col. James and Susan (Colby) Walker, died at his home where he was born and where he has always lived, Tuesday morning.

Mr. Walker was born April 12, 1836, and until the last three or four years, has always been strong and well and has done much hard work on the farm. He has always been deeply interested in all affairs pertaining to the best interests of the town and has given freely of time and money in years gone by and rendered valuable service to the town by serving as chairman at the board of selectmen several terms and has repeatedly filled the office of President and Secretary of the Fryeburg Agricultural Society.

Mr. Walker was a staunch Republican and a member of Pythagorean Lodge of Masons. Mr. Walker was married to Sarah E. Tarbox of Denmark May 2, 1863. She died several years ago. Two daughters, Mrs. Susan Walker Merrill and Sarah T. Walker and one sister, Mrs. W. H. Tarbox all of Fryeburg, survive him, also one grandson. Mr. Walker has been cared for tenderly by his two daughters since the passing of his wife.

Services were held at the "Island Home" Thursday, Feb. 1, Rev. B. N. Stone officiating.

Mr. Walker will be greatly missed, as he was always genial and agreeable to all and had a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. Alberta Abbott had a recital at her rooms, Monday afternoon, Feb. 5. The pupils did wonderfully well, and Fryeburg certainly has reason to feel proud of having in town so capable a teacher as Mrs. Abbott.

Many reasons have been suggested as the cause of the fire that gutted the Warren property, but the Insurance Adjuster was unwilling to admit it was defective wiring, saying it was one of the best pieces of wiring he had ever seen.

While shoveling off the snow from his lawn, Roland Howard injured his back while loading logs in the woods, Monday, and has been unable to work the past week, although he is some better.

The mercury registered 40 degrees below zero Friday morning at Charles Lee Brown's, and 42 below at Norman Dyer's in Bridgton village.

Have your wife or daughter sit down here and play real Music—any kind she wants without previous training!

Owning a piano does not mean that you are getting all the good you should from Music. The enjoyment is limited in many ways, when there is only the piano instrument.

If, on the other hand, you were given the power to play the most rapid and difficult passages—dances, sonatas, opera selections—WHY! Music would be quite another thing.

With a Lindeman Player Piano you have all the pleasure which comes with a beautiful instrument, and you also enjoy the delight of a high-grade Player which brings the entire world of music to you.

Lindeman quality and price have built up an 81 years reputation, which protects you in your purchase.

Whether you intend purchasing right away, or not, you would enjoy a visit to our store, and we would enjoy showing you the Lindeman entirely without obligation to buy.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST

Thirty-Two Years Ago
Edward M. Rowe of Norway is canvassing for the Advertiser, and is getting lots of subscribers.

A four ton Diebold safe costing $800.00 has been put in the South Paris Savings Bank. This safe is now in the office of A. W. Walker & Son.

Twenty-Five Years Ago
Dr. B. F. Bradbury has put electric lights in his house.

The Horne paste shop is being fitted up for the purpose of finishing leather. The engine, boiler and machinery are nearly all in place and work will commence at an early date.

John Carter recently shot a deer in Greenwood. Its head, and it had a splendid one, was set up and mounted by Mr. Swift of South Paris. The head was presented to Cobblers' Hall by Mr. Carter, who is a member of the club.

Stephen Merrill, who lives on a farm in Northwest Norway, recently killed a curious animal in his barn. He went to the barn, as is his custom, just before retiring, for the night to see that everything was all right and while there, he heard a commotion among his ducks. He soon discovered an animal among them that seemed to be somewhat larger than a cat. He chased the animal about the barn until it hid in a mow of hay. Some other member of his family came in and held the lantern and the critter was soon killed. It resembled a cross between a cat and a fox; its body was 20 inches long. The fore legs were considerably longer than the hind legs. The hair on the tail was $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length, while the tail on the body was $2\frac{1}{4}$ inches and the color was a bluish black. Mr. Merrill has seen a fisher cat and says this is not one. He is at a loss to know what it is.

George P. Tucker of South Paris is scooping in the shekels with his phonograph on the Fox and Lincoln railroad, printed privately in Rochester, and every copy is numbered and autographed by the author. There is also on the page opposite the title page a space for the owner's name and underneath this in red letters "Rochester and Monroe county have forwarded 150,000 dressings to date."

The book is dedicated to "The mothers of the world in hope of everlasting peace."

In addition to the verses, the book contains letters in facsimile received by Mrs. Hayden from Queen Mary of England, King Albert of Belgium, and Princess Patricia of Connaught. There is also a letter from the Duke of Connaught.

One of the aims of the committee is to send material for surgical dressings abroad as the women in France are paid, she says, 20 cents a day for making the dressings, and it is also the desire of the committee to send in as great a bulk as possible. The price of one book, a one comfort bag of several dressings or compresses.

The following are a few of the poems:

O Little Land of Belgium
O little land of Belgium,
We see thy children die,
In pain and hunger on the ground,
While armies trample by.

O never land with wound so deep,
With faith and trust betrayed;
Thy fertile fields are turned to waste,
Thy homes in ruin laid.

O little land of Belgium,
As future years unfold,
The story of thy valiant men
Will everywhere be told.

And how against a mighty foe,
A fearless little band
Fought for the altars and the fires,
Of their own native land.

Mrs. Hayden sent a copy of this poem to King Albert who notified her of his appreciation. The following elicited a note from Princess "Pat." In it obviously "Her Regiment" is the famous, Princess Patricia's Light Infantry:

Her Regiment
A princess gave them their colors
As they proudly marched away—
Brave lads from the Yukon valley
And the boys of Quinte bay.

The flower of the broad Dominion—
From the east and west they came—
To make up the honored number
Of the ranks that bore her name.

Her heroes! Down in the trenches,
At the front, wherever they be,
They bear the colors with honor
In the conflict o'er the sea.

Each one in his low green tent—
The flower of the broad Dominion,
Who made up her regiment.

"Jeanne d'Arc" is Mrs. Hayden's last poem and had not been published previous to the appearance of "Soldier Songs."

Jeanne d'Arc
By the flowering fields of France,
Came the girl long years ago—
And the maiden unsuited for
Hastened forth to meet the foe.

Spirit of the land of France,
Dead in armor, banner high—
All the world looked on amazed
As she led her legions by.

That undaunted spirit lives
In the land of France to-day—
Pure and fearless as of old
Leads to victory the way.

There is a touch of sadness in most of Mrs. Hayden's verses but perhaps it is best expressed and most predominant in the following poem:

The Land of the Broken Heart
The wheel of the cistern is broken,
The sound of the grinding is low,
The strong men have gone forth to battle,
And the maidens pass to and fro.

The sky overhead seems with danger,
The earth is unsafe to the feet,
The windows are darkened at even,
And the doors are shut to the street.

The joy of the land has departed,
And fear casts its shadow instead;
The brave on a far-away hillside
Are lying—unburied and dead!

The women are bowed down in sorrow,
The sound of the grinding is low,
The strong men have gone forth to battle,
And the maidens pass to and fro.

Junior Prize Exhibition, '94
It is with pleasure and pride that the people of Norway attend these exhibitions of the N. H. S. and this one was no exception. Every number on the program was most successfully executed.

The judges were from South Paris, Paris Hill and Norway, and truly the awarding of prizes in this class was no easy matter, but at the close the judges announced that the first prizes had been given Grace Holden and Ambrose Warren, the second prizes to Agnes Bonnds and Victor Whitman. Their many friends congratulate them on the honor bestowed upon them.

The recitations of Miss Bradbury, Miss Packard and Miss Bonnds were well received, showed careful study and marked ability, while Miss Bisbee, although she had suffered from illness for some time, did herself much credit and pleased her audience with her pretty ladylike manner and voice. Mr. Nevers has a good voice, every word is clear and distinct and his gestures and natural appearance on the stage are of high rank while May Holden in her thrilling selection held her audience from first to last with an ease and grace seldom seen in one so young.

The dumb bell drill was fine and showed long and persistent labor on the part of Prof. Barnes to whom much credit is due for the Junior Exhibition.

H. B. Foster, the clothier, is remodeling the interior of his clothing store. Horace Pike has done the carpentering. State Detective, A. P. Bassett has been appointed special deputy sheriff for the enforcement of the Maine Liquor Laws. Those who peddle the "critter" will do well to take warning.

Prof. C. P. Barnes is to spend his vacation at his home in Houlton.

Wash Brown froze his hands severely while handling ice on the memorable cold Tuesday. He has been a great sufferer ever since and it is thought may lose several fingers.

Miss Z. S. Prince has returned from Boston, where she has been for medical treatment, much improved in health. She is in the store a part of the time.

Hon. H. M. Beane of Norway is of the opinion that it will be cheaper for the taxpayers of this county in a term of years to build new county buildings than to repair the old ones.

BOOK OF POEMS DEDICATED TO WAR WORK

Mrs. Alma Pendexter Hayden Donates Collection of Her Poems

The Monroe county branch of the National Surgical Dressings committee has placed on sale in Rochester, N. Y., a charming little book of poems, written by Mrs. Alma Pendexter Hayden, head of the Industrial school in that city.

The author has given the book to the committee, and all the profits of the sale of these books will be used to buy surgical materials, either to be made here, or preferably, shipped abroad to be made in France.

Mrs. Hayden's book is called "Soldier Song." The edition, which was printed privately in Rochester, is limited and every copy is numbered and autographed by the author. There is also on the page opposite the title page a space for the owner's name and underneath this in red letters "Rochester and Monroe county have forwarded 150,000 dressings to date."

The book is dedicated to "The mothers of the world in hope of everlasting peace."

We see thy children die,
In pain and hunger on the ground,
While armies trample by.

O never land with wound so deep,
With faith and trust betrayed;
Thy fertile fields are turned to waste,
Thy homes in ruin laid.

O little land of Belgium,
As future years unfold,
The story of thy valiant men
Will everywhere be told.

And how against a mighty foe,
A fearless little band
Fought for the altars and the fires,
Of their own native land.

Mrs. Hayden sent a copy of this poem to King Albert who notified her of his appreciation. The following elicited a note from Princess "Pat." In it obviously "Her Regiment" is the famous, Princess Patricia's Light Infantry:

Her Regiment
A princess gave them their colors
As they proudly marched away—
Brave lads from the Yukon valley
And the boys of Quinte bay.

The flower of the broad Dominion—
From the east and west they came—
To make up the honored number
Of the ranks that bore her name.

Her heroes! Down in the trenches,
At the front, wherever they be,
They bear the colors with honor
In the conflict o'er the sea.

Each one in his low green tent—
The flower of the broad Dominion,
Who made up her regiment.

"Jeanne d'Arc" is Mrs. Hayden's last poem and had not been published previous to the appearance of "Soldier Songs."

Jeanne d'Arc
By the flowering fields of France,
Came the girl long years ago—
And the maiden unsuited for
Hastened forth to meet the foe.

Spirit of the land of France,
Dead in armor, banner high—
All the world looked on amazed
As she led her legions by.

That undaunted spirit lives
In the land of France to-day—
Pure and fearless as of old
Leads to victory the way.

There is a touch of sadness in most of Mrs. Hayden's verses but perhaps it is best expressed and most predominant in the following poem:

The Land of the Broken Heart
The wheel of the cistern is broken,
The sound of the grinding is low,
The strong men have gone forth to battle,
And the maidens pass to and fro.

The sky overhead seems with danger,
The earth is unsafe to the feet,
The windows are darkened at even,
And the doors are shut to the street.

The joy of the land has departed,
And fear casts its shadow instead;
The brave on a far-away hillside
Are lying—unburied and dead!

The women are bowed down in sorrow,
The sound of the grinding is low,
The strong men have gone forth to battle,
And the maidens pass to and fro.

Junior Prize Exhibition, '94
It is with pleasure and pride that the people of Norway attend these exhibitions of the N. H. S. and this one was no exception. Every number on the program was most successfully executed.

The judges were from South Paris, Paris Hill and Norway, and truly the awarding of prizes in this class was no easy matter, but at the close the judges announced that the first prizes had been given Grace Holden and Ambrose Warren, the second prizes to Agnes Bonnds and Victor Whitman. Their many friends congratulate them on the honor bestowed upon them.

The recitations of Miss Bradbury, Miss Packard and Miss Bonnds were well received, showed careful study and marked ability, while Miss Bisbee, although she had suffered from illness for some time, did herself much credit and pleased her audience with her pretty ladylike manner and voice. Mr. Nevers has a good voice, every word is clear and distinct and his gestures and natural appearance on the stage are of high rank while May Holden in her thrilling selection held her audience from first to last with an ease and grace seldom seen in one so young.

The dumb bell drill was fine and showed long and persistent labor on the part of Prof. Barnes to whom much credit is due for the Junior Exhibition.

H. B. Foster, the clothier, is remodeling the interior of his clothing store. Horace Pike has done the carpentering. State Detective, A. P. Bassett has been appointed special deputy sheriff for the enforcement of the Maine Liquor Laws. Those who peddle the "critter" will do well to take warning.

Prof. C. P. Barnes is to spend his vacation at his home in Houlton.

Wash Brown froze his hands severely while handling ice on the memorable cold Tuesday. He has been a great sufferer ever since and it is thought may lose several fingers.

Miss Z. S. Prince has returned from Boston, where she has been for medical treatment, much improved in health. She is in the store a part of the time.

Hon. H. M. Beane of Norway is of the opinion that it will be cheaper for the taxpayers of this county in a term of years to build new county buildings than to repair the old ones.

BOOK OF POEMS DEDICATED TO WAR WORK

Mrs. Alma Pendexter Hayden Donates Collection of Her Poems

The Monroe county branch of the National Surgical Dressings committee has placed on sale in Rochester, N. Y., a charming little book of poems, written by Mrs. Alma Pendexter Hayden, head of the Industrial school in that city.

The author has given the book to the committee, and all the profits of the sale of these books will be used to buy surgical materials, either to be made here, or preferably, shipped abroad to be made in France.

Mrs. Hayden's book is called "Soldier Song." The edition, which was printed privately in Rochester, is limited and every copy is numbered and autographed by the author. There is also on the page opposite the title page a space for the owner's name and underneath this in red letters "Rochester and Monroe county have forwarded 150,000 dressings to date."

The book is dedicated to "The mothers of the world in hope of everlasting peace."

In addition to the verses, the book contains letters in facsimile received by Mrs. Hayden from Queen Mary of England, King Albert of Belgium, and Princess Patricia of Connaught. There is also a letter from the Duke of Connaught.

One of the aims of the committee is to send material for surgical dressings abroad as the women in France are paid, she says, 20 cents a day for making the dressings, and it is also the desire of the committee to send in as great a bulk as possible. The price of one book, a one comfort bag of several dressings or compresses.

The following are a few of the poems:

Thousands Now Wish

They Had Waited For a

Hudson Super-Six

The Hudson Super-Six last year outsold any other fine car.

Over 27,000 happy owners got it.

But thousands, because of the over-demand, took sixes of other makes.

And now they find there is no similarity between other sixes and the Super-Six.

In every way the Super-Six out-performs all cars of every type.

The same situation—weeks of waiting for a Hudson Super-Six—may occur again this spring.

We urge you to avoid it by selecting your car now.

The New York show brought out no new sensations.

There were only types which the Super-Six has hopelessly defeated.

There were Sixes with the same old limitations.

There were Eights and Twelves, once thought to overcome them.

But nothing to endanger Super-Six supremacy. This type still holds, and will retain, all the worth-while records.

We have on exhibit this year's models, with the various new-style bodies.

There are eight beautiful body types in the Hudson line this year.

They are rich and luxurious masterpieces in design.

The new gasoline saver is another Hudson creation.

Immediate delivery is possible. In a few weeks that condition is not likely to exist.

A Unique Condition

Never before has any one car held all the worth-while records. Never has one car proved supreme in speed, in hill-climbing, in flexibility and in endurance.

Never before has a major feature been controlled by a single maker.

The Super-Six, by a single invention, increased motor efficiency 80 per cent. It gave to Hudson a capacity beyond anything ever known.

That is why the quality-car demand so centers on the Hudson. Why Hudson out-sells any rival. And why the spring demand, as last year, will far exceed supply.

The Super-Six invention minimized vibration. In that way, friction and wear in the motor are reduced almost to nil. Thus it saves most of the power which other types waste. And it probably doubles endurance. That is why it won in a hundred tests. It utilized power which others lost. It kept going when others stopped. It kept in perfect running order when others went to pieces.

A Gasoline Saver

That saving of wear and friction means tremendous economy. It apparently means a double-lived motor. For the limits of endurance of a Hudson Super-Six motor have never yet been realized. Its superlative performances are important only in what they show for endurance.

In the new Hudson appears another economy—a wonderful gasoline saver. It is on the cars we show. Come and see that, and the new Hudson luxury. The rest you know.

TURN IT INTO MONEY

It will soon be spring cleaning up time and you will find many things you do not want. Did you ever stop to think, that some one would like those very things you have ceased to care for or have use for? Put a "For Sale" ad in the intelligence column of this paper and you can exchange those things for money—something you do want. Try it and see for yourself. Others have and have been successful.

It will not be long before you will want orders for hatching chicks or cutters for "day old chicks." Try this Intelligence Column.

A lady a few years ago received over two hundred dollars from one of these Intelligence ads run for a series of weeks at less than $2.00 expense for a farm product. What she did you might do. Try it. The price of an Intelligence ad for twenty-five words or less, one week, 25 cents; second week, 15 cents; each additional week, 10 cents.

Each word more than 25: One week, 1 cent, and each additional week, 1/2 cent. This price for cash in advance. One and two-cent postage stamps taken.

ALBANY

The wind has blown here most every day for two weeks and the roads have been all drifted up and not much business done for the last ten days, hauling pulp wood.

Leslie L. Cummings has finished cutting timber for Fred Littlefield and sold all of his stock, hay, hogs and hens, and moved his family to Powlet, Vt., near New York state line. His brother, Raymond, has gone with him. They expect to have a good job in the mill where they will not have to wallow around in the snow cutting timber when the snow is three feet deep. They made good pay cutting wood and timber one year ago this winter, for they cut over 300 cords, but the snow was not as deep as it is this winter.

Mrs. Lizzie E. Cummings has gone to visit her sister, Mrs. Mary Needham of Concord, N. H.

Owing to bad weather and hard traveling, there was a small turn out at our last Circle, Friday night.

Jennie Bean and her friend, Miss Briggs, who is one of her schoolmates at Gould's Academy, came to the Circle and stayed over until Monday morning.

Saturday, Feb. 3, was the coldest we have had here at the Corner for a long time, 26 degrees below zero.

A COMBINATION THAT WORKS WELL

Doing an Immense Amount of Good.

No other medicines possess such curative properties as these two great restoratives, Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peppermint Pills, working together. They reach the impure, impoverished, poisoned, debilitated blood, and the worn, run-down, overworked, exhausted system. They awaken the appetite, aid digestion, purify and vitalize the blood, give renewed strength to the whole body, produce sound, natural sleep, and a complete restoration to good health. Two dollars invested in these two medicines will bring better results than four dollars spent in any other course of treatment or attendance.

It will be wise to get Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peppermint Pills today. They are sold by all druggists everywhere. Accept no substitutes. 200 doses $2.

Local Manufacturing Plant in Picture
Wednesday of last week was "Movie" day at W. F. Tubbs' Snow Shoe factory. R. W. Sears of the Pathe Film Co., was here from Boston with his moving picture camera and took the whole process of Snow Shoe manufacturing. The pictures are to be shown in the "Pathe News." The company will notify Mr. Tubbs when these pictures will be released and he will make an effort to have them shown at our local picture house.

The Tubbs factory was chosen for this purpose because it is the largest and best equipped factory of its kind in the country. Snow Shoeing being such a popular sport at the present time, the company felt that pictures of their manufacture would be of unusual interest.

Chautauqua Supper

The Chautauqua Supper will be served at the Grange Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 9th. The supper is under the management of the local Chautauqua Association and will be served by the ladies of the Congregational church.

During the supper hour and evening, Shaw's Orchestra of six pieces will furnish music. The speaker of the evening will be Capt. H. Turner of New York, assistant manager of the Chautauqua Course, who will give a very interesting talk.

These entertainments proved very popular last year and the association in holding this supper Friday evening is so to give everybody an opportunity to hear Mr. Turner and learn first hand just what will be in store for the 1917 Chautauqua Course, so everybody can be prepared to help and make it a big success.

Mrs. Flora K. Stearns is much improved.

Mrs. Mary Flint is caring for Mrs. Susan Craig.

Mrs. Ellen Millett Davenport is recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

Olive C. Hatch

After a very short illness, Olive C. Hatch died Friday forenoon, Feb. 2, at the age of 81 years, at her home on York street, Norway, where she and her brother, Stephen G. Hatch, kept up the old home.

She was born in New Gloucester, Jan. 6, 1836 and was the daughter of John and Emma B. (Greenleaf) Hatch, her mother being a native of Norway. She received her education in the schools at New Gloucester and the Norway Liberal Institute. In the early fifties the family moved to this town and shortly after, Miss Hatch went to Charleston, S. C., with her brother, where she lived until 1871. She had many thrilling experiences during the Civil war and learned considerable of the Southern conditions during the great struggle.

In 1870 she returned from the South and has since made her home in Norway.

Besides her brother, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Izah Whitman of Red Wing, Minn., and a niece, Isabelle H. Whitcomb of Conoto, Wisconsin.

The funeral was held from her late home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, attended by Rev. Chester G. Miller. The bearers were John P. Collman, Charles R. Ridlon, Charles S. Akers, and John Laselle. The remains were placed in the family lot at Rustfield Cemetery.

A Masonic Assembly will be held at Masons' Hall Thursday evening, Feb. 15th. All resident Masons and their ladies are invited to attend.

Lawrence Record is suffering from blood poison in the index finger of the left hand.

The Woman's Mission Society of the Universalist society met Wednesday afternoon with Misses S. B. and Z. S. Prince, and the Ladies' Sewing Circle met Friday afternoon at Mrs. S. B. Cummings'.

Chas. Porter of Augusta is the new overseer of the packing room in the Carroll Jellerson Shoe Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Leavitt and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sanborn were entertained at dinner Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Mundy. On Thursday evening, last week, Mr. and Mrs. Mundy opened their studio in honor of their guest, Mrs. J. K. Simmers of New York. It was an evening of art and music.

Harry A. Packard has given up his rent in J. T. Rowe's house and has his goods packed, intending to move to Boston. His plans are somewhat in the air, being a member of the hospital corps of the Coast Artillery, he expects a call so the Boston trip may be declared off.

B. E. Morrison retiring from the Norway Shoe Company, is planning on manufacturing shoes in Norway. There is talk of a stock company and the starting of another shoe factory for the making of Misses shoes. Hope it will materialize and it will, if our enterprising citizens will only take hold of it. It will be a small business and just what is needed. Glad it is a lift.

Lycium Course Entertainment

The third entertainment of the Lycium course which is being given during the winter at the Congregational church under the management of the ladies' circle, was held Wednesday evening, with a fair sized audience in attendance.

The entertainer of the evening was Willard Gorton, the artist and impersonator. The entertainment included a variety of interesting readings, the making of fabric pictures by pinning pieces of cloth on a blackboard, the making of a variety of crayon sketches which "grew" before the eyes of the spectator in a few seconds. Clay modeling was another interesting feature. He could fairly make the clay "talk" and by a move of the hand, the whole countenance of the modeled head was changed. He was a fine impersonator and an artist in his line. Among these were Lincoln, Buffalo Bill, Taft, Roosevelt, and Caleb Brown.

The entertainer was finely received and his musical program was filled with amusement from start to finish.

The March entertainment will consist of a musical entertainment by the Grevold sisters quartet.

Mrs. L. H. Truett will entertain the Barton Reading Club this Thursday afternoon. Readings will be magazine selections.

MR. HUGH PENDEXTER

The Litteratur
Mr. Pendexter has such a pensive air. It is a brilliant star that shines near by. In the fields of literature he has flown high; his story are like stars in the night sky. And in many homes his praises are sung. He has treasures rare in his home that many would love to have. He has two sons, Francis and Hugh. Of late he has been ill and is now recovering. We know no reason for this pensive air. "A man is always heard to say," Mr. Pendexter is tall and straight and lean. And in many homes his praises are sung. We admire his long straight bowing back. And it goes so well with his pensive air. His quietness and his love for romance is a heritage from his father. His ancestors came from that sunny land of Italy. He has a fine collection of books. And leaves his footprints in marble and bronze. He is proud of his brilliant son. Who rises to fame by brush or pen. And this distinguished gift son. Deserves the honors which he has won. Mrs. Z. L. Merchant, Norway, Maine.

WEST SUMNER

Mell Thomas has sold his farm and has moved his stock and household goods to William Crockett.

C. W. Bisbee has bought a horse of Alton Hadley. It is a fine one.

The many friends of Lila C. Andrews and her mother, Mrs. L. C. Andrews, who were at the funeral of Lila, were that she went into the cellar to fix the furnace and that her clothing caught fire. She was the daughter of the late Sullivan Andrews, formerly of Buckfield. She was forty years of age.

No Baby Carriages in Japan
One's first impression on reaching Tokyo is that it is exceedingly well provided with means of transportation. Up through the middle of the city runs an elevated trestle, under which subway carriages and shops utilize the covered space, an on this four-track trestle electric and steam trains enter and leave in steady streams. The streets are filled with automobiles, motor trucks, bicycles, man-drawn carts, and a variety of vehicles except the baby carriage. The baby carriage of Japan is the mother's back and the daddy's shoulder, and I have a doubt that this closeness of mother and child throughout months and years has much to do with the excellent behavior of the bright little babies. Street cars pass a given point every minute or two, a half-dozen crossing there are always a half-dozen big trains in sight.

BETHEL

Gilbert Tyler, one of the oldest men in Bethel, passed away at the home of his son on the Robertson's Hill road, Monday morning, Feb. 6. Mr. Tyler was born in Sumner 55 years ago.

He married Martha Linnell, who died about four years ago, and was blessed with four children all of whom are now living. Arthur Tyler of South Paris, Mrs. Nettie Fleet of North Bethel, Mrs. Addie Brooks of Grafton and Fred Tyler of Bethel. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary E. Jones of Turner and Mrs. Hattie Lyons of Zephyr Hills, Fla., and eleven grandchildren survive.

Speeches, cards and old fashioned games will be in order, which goes to say that the evening will be one of pleasure. Arrangements have been made for a large attendance.

John H. Haselton of Westbrook was in town from Monday until Wednesday, hunting up old acquaintances. John left Norway some over twenty years ago, but returns each year to officiate at the Clerks' Annual Ball.

Dr. Charles L. Fogg has been busy during the past week testing cows in Norway and vicinity. He says tuberculosis is common, averaging from one to three cows in many herds that he has recently examined. These animals are of course condemned and destroyed.

Hortense G. Gates and Jennie C. Young have each bought a lot on Pike Hill from Hobbs Variety Store Company. These small parcels are situated east of highway and adjoin the James Danforth estate land.

Richard Dietrich of Auburn has secured a piece of real estate on Pike Hill that adjoins Carl Schenck's farm, being originally the Whitney property once owned by H. M. Bearce.

"This is the first day that the weather conditions have kept me away from my work at South Paris," was the remark made by Margaret Baker, Saturday noon. "I have been in W. J. Wheeler's insurance office about twenty-five years, but this is the first time a combination of causes, aside from illness or vacation have kept me in town on a working day. Both steam cars and electricity were tied up, the temperature ranged close to 18 below zero at breakfast time and close to 10 below about noon, with a howling wind during the forenoon, so there were good reasons for Miss Baker's absence.

Pennesseewassee Lodge, Knights of Pythias, initiated two candidates in the rank of Page, Thursday evening. Bank of Esquire will be closed Thursday evening, February 15.

"KNOCKING HIS OLD HOME TOWN"

A contemporary local editor whose ignorance is so shockingly apparent we will hold him to his name, says:

"Don Seitz, proprietor of the New York World, who was born in the town of Norway, has seemed to outgrow his fondness for his old home town, and has taken upon himself the disloyal work of knocking the town."

In a recent speech before the members of the Rotary Club of Portland, Mr. Seitz said that he recalled that the citizens of Norway thirty-six years ago, were so penurious that they wouldn't appropriate money to put the streets in proper condition. He declared that at some seasons of the year, Main street was 36 inches deep in mud. We can't believe that story, but it may have been so. Mr. Seitz also referred to the refusal of the citizens to appropriate $12,000 to drain Main street, but later a bucket shop operator from Lewiston came to town and took more than $12,000 away from him. This is probably so, but why should Mr. Seitz knock the old town where he got his first start in life in the printing business?

Mr. Seitz also knocked the farmers of Norway, saying that in one year, they sent $189,000 away to buy things that they could have raised themselves. Now what business is it of Mr. Seitz what the farmers of Norway do with their money? When the New York editor comes to Norway, the citizens should give him a cool reception."

That is not "knocking" Norway. It is a simple statement of facts. It was told us some years ago and a remedy suggested which is now being worked out. Seitz did the telling and suggesting and to him is due a large portion of the praise or blame for the betterments now under way. Its good for a town to see as others see it and pull itself together and do things. That is what Norway is doing and Seitz is boasting and not knocking and the first citizens should be over each other in extending the glad hand of welcome when he comes to town. And it is as it should be.

Alvin Marr and son, Henry Marr were recent callers at Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Everett's. Mr. Marr owns a productive farm on the East Poland road near Oxford village and understands the way to raise crops. Last fall he raised more than a hundred dollars worth of beans and dug 300 bushels of potatoes. He supplies the summer camps with garden truck, milk, eggs and poultry, so is altogether a busy man during the summer months.

The intense cold from Friday night until Monday put the High school heating plant on the quietus. Owing to the construction which dates back twenty odd years and somewhat ancient, the pipes won't drain themselves, and the first big drop of the thermometer is a signal for an expensive break. By dint of hard work Horace Sanborn started the circulation Monday and had the building as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. Many students were forced to keep on sweaters, maknaws and other outdoor fixings during the forenoon. Whenever this occurs, have a hard day and don't blame the janitor. "There is a reason."

Services will be held at the usual hours Sunday at 10:40 in the morning. "Sermon theme: 'The Glory of Life.'" In the evening at 7 o'clock Mr. Bruce will repeat by request, his sermon upon "What does this Gospel of Christ teach?" There will be attractive music at all the services. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Omar Chase is visiting her son, Eric Chase in Augusta for two weeks.

The "Kare Free Klub" was pleasantly entertained at the Beals Tavern, Miss Louise Seavey, hostess, Friday evening. The members were busy with needle work and dainty refreshments were served.

COMMISSIONER ROBERTS

What People Abroad Think of a Norway Man.

We should like to know something of you and your department," said the reporter, and forthwith John A. Roberts of Norway, one of the best known men in the state among the farmers, laughed and said there was much to be said of the department, but little about himself.

Mr. Roberts is entirely too modest for it should be stated that in 14 years has a man so capably filled the office of commissioner of agriculture of the State of Maine as Mr. Roberts, who has instituted many reforms, taken a personal interest in the work of the Maine farmer, spoken before gatherings in granges and other places on the work of the department, done a great deal to put the department on a plane with other similar departments in other states. Not only is Mr. Roberts well known in this State, but he is also well known and his department is favorably spoken of in other states, and today Maine has reasons for being proud of Mr. Roberts and this department which in 1913-14 did so much for the agriculturists of this state and who has again started in to do all within his power and the power of his department to help educate the Maine farmer and to help him in every possible way.

Roberts raises the best apples and best potatoes in the world," said Mr. Roberts, "And in 16 years we have increased in production in potatoes from 6,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels. The output of apples is much greater, and I am a strong believer in the small farm."

"Do you think the Maine farms today are what they were 30 to 40 years ago?" was asked.

"The Maine farmer today takes in $10 where he took $1.40 years ago," was the reply. "I don't mean net, but that is about the ratio. The Maine farmer today is a better farmer than at any other time in the history of the State, and we are cooperating them in every possible way, as they are with us. You must understand that we are away up here in the northeast corner of the United States. Geographically we are not placed at an advantage as some other states, but for all that we are producing the best apples and best potatoes in the world. Our product has never yet been equalled, and Maine is known by the fine apples and potatoes she sends out. This alone is worth much to Maine, to say nothing of our dairying, egg production, etc. It has often been stated that there are few farms in Maine today than in former years, and that young men are leaving the farms for the city. To a certain extent that may be true, but it is a bit as stated. One reason why more men are not going into farming today is because of the cost. By the time a man has purchased his farm and machinery and is $10,000 to go to work, it has cost him that amount of money to start in with."

Mr. Roberts has much faith in the Maine farmer of today and even his department is at work upon a scheme to find out the cost of producing a barrel of apples. Through arrangements with several orchardists the actual cost of production is kept from day to day, and then a general average is struck for the year after the entire costs have been totaled.

The departments of agriculture is made up of a number of bureaus and all of these bureaus have reached a high state of efficiency. The horticulture bureau employs two men and they devote their time to the orchard industry. The dairy bureau employs two men who have charge of the dairy interests in the State; the bureau of markets employs one man and he has charge of the market conditions and makes investigations; the department of weights and measures employs one man who tends solely to this line of work.

There is a field agent for the gypsy moth, one of the most important pests in the State today. There is the seed improvement bureau employing one man beside the institute work which is purely educational.

Over all these Mr. Roberts has supervision and is the executive head. His work has many times been spoken for itself, and without any exception in any state there is no more thoroughly competent head of a department.

Mr. Roberts was born in Gardiner 64 years ago. He removed to Andover, and in the 80's moved to Norway where he has since been located. He knows all about farm work, but has specialized in dairying.

He graduated from Bowdoin college in class of '77, was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity, and among illustrious men who were classmates of his were Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, William T. Cobb of Rockland and Judge Alvin A. Morrill of Auburn. Bowdoin today, but she turned out many men who have attained success, and in that class life many men whom he came into personal contact with have since won prominence in the arts and professions.

Mr. Roberts taught school for a number of years and was principal of the Brunswick high school and later taught in Oxford and Hancock counties.

He read law and was admitted to the bar in '78, but practiced only a short time on account of ill health. When Henry W. Longfellow returned to celebrate the 50th anniversary of his graduation and read his famous "Marituri Salutamus," Mr. Roberts was present and heard the famous author and scholar in King's chapel.

During his years on the farm Mr. Roberts became acquainted with general farm work, and while thus engaged he had time to enter politics. He was a member of the Maine House in '93 and the Senate in '97, and served his county town well for 12 years he was a trustee of the University of Maine, and became conversant with that institution.

During his administration as commissioner of agriculture, Mr. Roberts has gathered together the best experts in the different bureaus he could find. He knows men and he is one of the fairest minded men who ever occupied the position. It would take pages to tell all that the department has accomplished. One of the biggest things it has done is to send out eight times a year bulletins to the various farmers in Maine. Seventy-five thousand of these booklets are distributed a year, and they are of invaluable aid to the farmer.

Mr. Roberts' long years of training and his clearness for details, make him one of the most efficient of the heads of a State institution today. His department cooperates with the University of Maine in extension work and one of the jobs that falls to the department is the inspection of nurseries and stock that comes into the State.

There were many things that needed his personal attention when he first took the office in 1913 and his election by the Legislature was one of the best selections John P. Buckley of Westbrook and during his regime, the department has been raised to a high place among the departments of the State. This is no reflection upon Mr. Buckley, who had done well as head of the department, but Mr. Roberts has done even more.

"Of course," he said, "Maine is unlike other states in many respects. Situated as we are, the small farmer with little cash does not have the opportunity of those in other states with larger means. It is a long way to market from Aroostook or Central Maine to Boston and New York, but there isn't a place today that I know of that can raise such apples as we can. There is something entirely different in the Maine apple from those that are raised in the Maine farmer. He needs all the help and encouragement he can receive and my department stands ready always to give help.

"Farming is like everything else. I can remember when I was a boy that my father used to take me to the shoemaker and the shoemaker made me a pair of shoes to order. Today you buy your shoes ready made. Many young men go yearly to the city, but all cannot enter the trades and professions and arts and therefore some have to remain on the land and the farmer today is doing more than his grandfather did or even more than his father did with the same piece of land.

"Modern machinery has had its effect upon the Maine farmer as well as his Western brother and while here in this State do not farm on such gigantic scale as the West, they are doing more and more excepting Aroostook, as they do in other states, Maine will stand well up with her sister states and in some of the articles of produce I have mentioned, surpass the world."

Mr. Roberts is a quiet unassuming gentleman and one might think him a college professor, but when he speaks he shows his knowledge of the various subjects to a remarkable degree. While he does not handle the various bureaus, there isn't one of them he doesn't know something about. His experts keep him informed in their various departments so that he has almost at his finger tips, information which any person may require. Best of all he's a mighty pleasant man to meet and to know. His subordinates swear by him and one of them in conversation with the reporter later said, "You can't say too many good things about the commissioner because he's a big man, a big job and the people of Maine are valuing this more and more as time goes on."—Portland Sunday Press.

OXFORD POMONA GRANGE

Oxford Pomona Grange met with Franklin Grange, Bryant's Pond, February 5. The meeting was called to order at 11:30. Officers absent overseas, chairman, secretary, treasurer and Flora chairs were filled by G. W. Richardson, Mrs. Emma Peck, Daisy Hillbrook, Dana Grover, and Mrs. A. E. Grover, respectively. At roll call the responses were as follows: Bethel Grange, Bear Mt. 4, Round Mt. 2, West Paris, 12; Norway, 7; Pleasant Valley, 1; Waterville, 1; Fredrick Robie, 1; Paris, 6; Alder River, 1; Grand River, 1; and Franklin, the best grange 38.

The degree of Pomona was conferred on twelve candidates, R. T. Willard, J. J. Willard, Fred M. Cole, Ella Sweetser, Edna L. Brown, Clifford B. Bean, Edwin B. Perham, Leila D. Estes, Lena M. Cummings, Edna Peck, and Sara E. Knight, all of Franklin Grange. Earl Davis of Bear River Grange, Mildred Perham presided at the piano and Mrs. Davis at the organ during the work. At the close of the degree work, dinner was announced by Brother Cushman, master of Franklin Grange. Everybody in the hall heard Pleasantly what he said.

In the afternoon an overture was held. During the program, W. G. Hunt of Portland also an M. C. R. R. man were expected to address the meeting, but sent Worthy Lecturer Pike a telegram that he was unable to be present.

A short period devoted to social talk preceded the program which included a song, America. The address of welcome was given by Hanno Cushman, master of the host grange. A delightfully cordial talk, hinted that the weather man did not always favor Franklin Grange, when host to Oxford Pomona with a strong feeling of fraternity, giving impressiveness to all he said and in response Worthy Master McIntire voiced the sentiments of all present when expressing the pleasure it was to be entertained by Franklin Grange that weather conditions proved the loyal spirit of Patrons, in efforts to be present, and on matter whether present or absent they were all true patrons. In addition he spoke briefly of interesting features of the last session of the Maine State Grange, and quoted a message from High Priest of Dexter Charles M. Gardner pertinent to grange work and applicable to all work, in fact, in agriculture.

A piano solo was given by Mildred Perham with music and a paper: Our Own Community, which will be printed later. Nellie Tracy and Mrs. B. printed later. gave most enjoyable readings and each responded to an encore, which were followed by a piano selection by Mildred Perham. Worthy Lecturer then called on G. W. Richardson of Norway Grange and an exceedingly interesting discussion of the "milk" situation followed.

Bro. Richardson believes that the association, Farmers' Union; and granges are to be co-workers for the interest of the farmer and communities.

Bro. Perham, president of the Oxford association, gave an outline of work accomplished so far and gave general enlightenment on the work and its probable effect on the future.

Worthy Master McIntire on "What are we going to do and how are we going to do it?" gave many clearly defined lines of work. Bro. Hanno Cushman and Bro. Wyman in short talks, added much interest to the discussion.

The question is vital to the interests of the producer as well as the consumers and should be thoroughly understood by every patron and the general public and should be discussed in all subordinate granges as well.

Meeting closed in form and goes on record as one of the best with thanks to the host grange. Next Pomona to meet with West Paris Grange on March 5. Worthy Lecturer Harold Pike left on the evening train for Waterville.

Albert J. Stearns of Norway has been nominated justice of the peace.

Buildings Burned

The buildings of Mrs. Ann Carley, next the grammar and intermediate school building, were burned to the ground Sunday morning about eleven o'clock. It is supposed that the fire caught around the chimney. Most of the contents of the building was saved as a large crowd of people quickly gathered to assist.

There was some pretty hard fighting to do, as some of the nearby dwellings caught fire, and the wind was blowing a gale of sixty miles an hour. Fortunately no further damage was done, and at 12:30 everything was burned flat.

Mrs. Carley and daughter, Mrs. Annie Wise, have gone to George Carley's in South Harrison for a time, for all probability the buildings will not be rebuilt as Mrs. Carley is a lady of more than eighty years of age.

Mrs. Harold Horton of Hillside Farm is confined to her home with gripe.

Mrs. Silas C. Pitts is seriously ill at her home on Front street with the prevailing epidemic.

Mrs. Olive Whitney, who is quite an elderly lady, is confined to her bed with influenza.

The Odd Fellows held a social dance on Saturday evening in the I. O. O. F. Banquet Hall. Rather a small attendance, we understand, but a very good time.

Mildred E. Dudley, who has been pianist in a moving picture theatre the past six months in New Glasgow, N. S., is a guest at her home on Bridgton Road for a brief visit.

Fred E. Pitts and daughter, Helene Pitts, of Elm street, spent the day Sunday in Oxford.

Mrs. Aldene Hatch Pitts sang soprano in Mrs. Louisa Pitts' place at the Congregational church last Sunday morning. The services were broken up at both churches on account of the fire, which happened soon after the services had commenced.

Mrs. Louise Foster is still confined to the house with gripe and has been ill several weeks with it.

Nancy D. Hobbs is very ill at her home on Main street with bronchial pneumonia. Her friend, Mrs. Abbie Day Curtis, from Lewiston is here caring for her.

Alvin P. Ricker, who has been ill the past three weeks, is still confined to his bed, but said to be improving slowly.

Mrs. Henry Billings has so far recovered from her recent illness as to go out of doors.

The first degree was conferred upon five candidates at the regular meeting of the I. O. O. F. Lodge, Friday evening.

There will be a Circle Supper at the Congregational vestry, Thursday evening, Feb. 8th. It is to be a book social, and all who will, are asked to year, or carry something representing a book.

Annual Lincoln Sunday Service in the interest of the American Missionary Association will be held at the Congregational vestry on Sunday evening at 7:00. This is a union service and all are invited. There will be a special program and patriotic music.

On Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 31st, the Wrentham Club was entertained by Mrs. Mercy and Mrs. Mary Gray at their home on Main street. The following program was enjoyed by those present:

WATERFORD

Andrew Sprout Hapgood

Andrew Sprout Hapgood, son of Captain Thomas and Jane McWain Hapgood, was born Nov. 11, 1841. He came to Waterford with his father in 1850 and received his education in the public schools of this town. He worked with his father in the saw mill most of the time until twenty years of age, when he enlisted (1861) in Company G, First Regiment, Maine Volunteers, and reported in Washington for service, performing guard duty during the three months of his term of enlistment.

In 1862 he went to California where he worked in a saw mill for two years and then went to Idaho and worked a placer gold mine for a year. He then crossed the plains, 1800 miles, on horseback to Omaha, returned to Waterford and engaged in the lumber business and running a saw mill, in which business he has been engaged until failing health forbade physical labor and he retired from the business a little over a year ago.

When a young man, he taught school one winter in Bangor, N. Y., where his father was operating a saw mill, and two winters in Waterford.

A man of integrity, industry and sound judgment, Mr. Hapgood served his town several years as selectman and was representative of his district in the state Legislature in 1895.

In 1870 he married Irene Willard. She died in 1895 and some over a year later he married Leona Green. She passed away in 1908. There were born to them two children, Eva Frances and Wade Willard.

Mr. Hapgood was stricken with double pneumonia on Friday, Jan. 26, and died Sunday, only two days later.

Funeral services were held at the home on Tuesday, Rev. G. W. Sias officiating, and interment was made in Elm Vale cemetery. She went only about a quarter of a mile when she decided to call at one of the neighbors, and Mr. Little says he wishes the farmers would set their barbed wire fences back a little farther from the road. Although the boys were shaken up some, they received no injuries, seemed to enjoy the evening as well as though they had not met with any misfortune.

The following school poem was original and read by Bernice Dunn. It was much appreciated by all. A treat was given by the teacher which appealed to the pupils' taste. There were several of the parents and friends present and all called it a very enjoyable time. The school room, upon this happy day, playing games and speaking pieces. For to while the time away. And we're glad to see our mothers, who to us are very dear. For they are all very welcome. Also our friends who gather here. We know that we have been amply rewarded for our nine weeks past. And we thank our teacher for her patience. From beginning to the last.

All together, there are eleven scholars, seven are girls and four are boys. But we think there is no difference. When it comes to making noise. At times we've missed our lessons. And we've been a little bit late. Sometimes we were slow to get them. But we think it is all right. When we come to take our test, we'll not blame our little teacher. At times in the past she's done her best. She has toiled five days weekly. Always cheerful, never sad. And to see our childish faces. Every morning she seems glad. And we thank her for her labor. And her kindness in the past. For from beginning to the last. We children have learned to love her. And hope that she'll come back next term. We'll all try to do much better. Striving hard each day to learn. But we welcome our vacation. At times in the past we've been again we'll meet. And we hope each one to greet. So again we'll thank our teacher. For her love and her patience. And extend them to our friends here. And dear mothers unto you.

You have given us great pleasure. Coming here upon this day. To hear us recite our little pieces. And to go so happily on our way. Thinking how you've shown an interest. In the little things we do. So I'll thank you most heartily. And say to all a kind adieu.
